

The NYC Regional Pediatric Hospital Medicine Collaborative Dinner and Discussion

The NYC Regional PHM Collaborative is a network of pediatric hospitalists who work to promote collaboration, and to advance skills and knowledge critical to caring for hospitalized patients and their families. We serve as a platform for inter-institutional projects including developing IRB protocols, presenting at national meetings, and co-authoring publications; organizing multidisciplinary Family-Centered Rounds seminars; networking with members of regional and national professional organizations; securing educational grants to organize regional CME conferences; and supporting a regular networking and discussion forum.

This event is dedicated to Dr. Becca Rosenberg, our dear friend and colleague who passed away recently. Becca was an inspiring leader, a brilliant clinician, an accomplished researcher, a fantastic mentor, and a tireless advocate who has a lasting impact on the PHM community at NYU Langone, through this regional collaborative, and throughout the hospital medicine community nationally.
